

Outer Banks
hotline
Crisis Intervention and Prevention Center

Imagine the Outer Banks without Outer Banks Hotline.

For many years Outer Banks Hotline has offered essential crisis intervention and prevention programs funded by contributions, grants, special events, thrift shops and, most recently, a recycled weaving program that serves as a metaphor for the agency's commitment to rebuilding and strengthening lives.

Hotline is a unique, private, non-profit organization, tax exempt under the IRS code.

Our mission is to promote a safe and compassionate community. Hotline continuously fundraises and channels these funds back into the community.

Our dedicated staff and volunteers maintain an around the clock operation that addresses the challenges of victimization and need in the Northern Outer Banks. To do this, community partners are needed to provide cash, services, goods and encouragement.
